DETAILED ACTION

1. The claims and remarks filed 05 January 2009 are acknowledged. The previous Office action is hereby withdrawn and vacated in view of Applicants response and clarification of the record.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8, drawn to a nucleic acid molecule comprising a microtrophin under the control of regulatory sequence for direct expression in a host cell.

Group II, claim(s) 10, drawn to a vector which contains unspecified nucleic acid sequences.

Group III, claim(s) 12, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition containing unspecified matter/ingredients.

Group IV, claim(s) 16-18, drawn to a method of treating dystrophin deficiency by delivering a vector containing a nucleic acid molecule comprising a microtrophin under the control of regulatory sequence for direct expression in a host cell.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Utrophin is a 3,433 amino acid protein with several different regions and domains and which is usually found in muscle tissues. Tinsley et al. (US 6,518,413) teach a DNA molecule that is a utrophin "mini-gene" which expresses a polypeptide that encodes for a 2008 amino acid protein which possesses the N-terminal amino acid domain, and the

C-terminal amino acid domain, but which is missing the majority of the central domain (approximately 1500 amino acids – attached amino acid sequence alignment of SEQ ID No: 5 and 8EQ ID No: 8 of Tinsley et al.). The polynucleotide clone is placed under the control of the human skeletal alpha-actin (HAS) promoter and regulatory regions (column 16, lines 55-62). This promoter is a muscle specific promoter. The DNA of the invention is used with adenovirus or retrovirus vectors (column 10, lines 1-3). Thus, this teaching minimally anticipates claim 1.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Potential Right to Rejoinder

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
